These updates range from fixing bugs in the way the app works to adding new features. MORE FROM QUESTIONSANSWERED.NET You can log in to your Google account and have access to your previously downloaded apps and saved files. There are several ways to find apps to install on your device. Some apps update on their own, but others require your permission to complete. If you know the name of the app you're looking for—like Twitter, Spotify or your bank—type the name in the search bar at the top of the screen. Google sometimes offers you suggestions for apps it thinks you'd like. From time to time, developers send out notifications when they've updated their apps. You can go back in to download it in the future if you need it. Click the three lines at the top left corner of the screen and locate the "My Apps & Games" section. You'll have to confirm this step to indicate that you really want to uninstall the app. Want your Android app to work seamlessly with Google Assistant? You've made the transition to the Google Play Store. Tap it to open the Google Play Store directly on the device. You need a Gmail account to use this service. Just say "Hey Google" to get started. When this happens, you need to know how to uninstall apps you've downloaded. When you see one you think you're interested in, click it to download the app. Reduce friction by letting users fast-forward into your app's key functionality with their voice. You can search for apps by name or type or try out an app that the store suggests for you. O popular Battle Royale, agora em Android Converse com todos os seus contatos, fácil e rápido Five Nights at Freddy's 2 O terror do Freddy's está de volta CC0/Ingo Joseph/Pixabay You've finally done it. This simple integration can be completed in only a few days and is available for all Android Apps. You'll see three tabs. The app will link to your email account, which makes it easy to backup your apps, photos, videos and other files in Google's cloud storage system. If your device doesn't have this as an option, find the triangle-shaped icon in your apps. Google Assistant on your phone Keep in touch, manage tasks and to-dos, get answers, control your phone, and more. You can check them out by tapping on them for download. Install the Apps After you click the button to select the app, Google Play shows you information about the app, including its creator, tags that relate to it, price, reviews from other users and a green button that says "Install." Press that button, and the device automatically downloads and installs it as long as there is storage space available. Locate the app using the search bar at the top of the screen. Sign up to be guided through the different stages of development for App Actions. Tap the app and find the button to uninstall it. Choose the app you want from the list. If you're looking for a general type of app, such as a messenger app, type that phrase in the search box. The first tab takes you to a list of your apps sorted by "recently updated" and "updates pending." From here, you can either update all your apps or choose which apps to update individually. How to Uninstall Apps Sometimes you accidentally download an app that you don't really want or need or you want to clear up some space on your device. This is particularly handy if you're someone who enjoys getting the newest devices. Keeping up with these updates ensures that you always have the latest version of the app that the developer supports. To find out if your downloaded apps have updates, open your Google Play Store. Google Play will give you a list of different apps that are tagged to match your search criteria. Explore the top Android developers who have already implemented App Actions on our Assistant directory. Fortunately, once you master the download process, you'll be filling up your smartphone or tablet with all your favorite apps. Locate the Google Play Store App To find the Google Play Store on your device, go to the apps section on your device. Getting used to a new system is exciting—and sometimes challenging—as you learn where to locate what you need. How to Update Your Apps You should keep your installed apps up to date. Don't worry, though. On many phones, you can do this directly on the phone interface without entering the Google Play Store. If you'd rather do this in the Google Play Store, open it. In some cases it's as easy as swiping up from the bottom of your screen.
